Mini Messi Kai catches Barca's eye

BY JONATHAN REILLY
jonathan.reilly@hpnorthants.co.uk

A SEVEN-YEAR-OLD from Northampton has been given the chance of a life-time to become a professional footballer at one of the world's best clubs thanks to a family holiday.

Kai Fifield, who goes to Barry Primary School in Abington, was handed a trial at European Champions Barcelona after being spotted at a kick-about outside the Spanish giant's Nou Camp stadium.

Kai's dad, Delaney, explained that the trip to the Catalan city was an early birthday gift for his son.

He said: "He loves Barcelona so we arranged to go to their last game of the season as an early birthday present. They had just won the league so there was a real festival atmosphere.

"The day after we did the stadium tour and then at a nearby five-a-side pitch Kai joined in with a group of 11 year olds and held his own.

"I asked their coach who they played for and he said, 'Barcelona'. I was shocked."

The coach then offered Kai the chance to have a trial at the club for next year's intake of the club's famous Escola school which has produced World Cup winning players such as Andreas Iniesta, Xavi and Cesc Fabregas, not to mention the best player in the world, Argentinian, Lionel Messi.

The family cancelled flights home to stay for the trial.

Mr Fifield said: "I haven't heard anything back from the club yet but they said he did very well. It's not like we have been sitting by the phone but the whole experience has been magical.

"It was a chance encounter but it just shows that anyone can try to achieve their dream."

Mr Fifield runs Football For All (FFA) based in Abington which provides the opportunity for children to play football across Northampton.

And he believes it is part of the reason that Kai was spotted by the Catalan giants. He said: "We run a little club on Saturdays called 'Little Messi' and there are some really good players there who have been spotted by clubs around the region."

Ex-school miss caught with Class A drugs haul

BY JONATHAN REILLY

jonathan.reilly@HPnorthants.co.uk

A FORMER teacher has been jailed for looking after a rucksack full of heroin for a dealer who promised her drugs to look after it.

Joanne Philpott, 35, was caught with a bag with 12 grams of heroin which she was intending to supply as well as cocaine for personal use.

On Tuesday Northampton Crown Court heard how the ex-teacher had also been recently jailed for 12 weeks for shoplifting while on bail awaiting sentence.

Her defence, Richard Holloway, explained that an administrative mix up meant that she was unable to get hold of her usual supply of methadone to help with her rehabilitation.

He said: "She should have waited for the situation to have sorted itself but like most drug addicts she was not patient and with the withdrawal symptoms she went out and stole £230 worth of make-up to get hold of £50 worth of heroin or methadone. She did not care which."

She was sentenced at Northampton Magistrates' Court last month before being sentenced to three and a half years for the earlier possession.

Richard Holloway, mitigating, said: "She was a teacher until heroin got a grip on her in 2003 and she was going to get some heroin for her part in looking after the drugs."

"She has been unable to take her drug problem seriously as she realised that she has this serious offence hanging over her."

"She now understands that she has to get her life in order and will move away and cut off parts of her old life in order to do so."

Sentencing her, Judge Michael Fowler said: "By receiving some heroin yourself, for looking after the drugs, you were party to the supply."

Jackpot joy for lucky Lotto pair

BY JONATHAN REILLY
jonathan.reilly@HPnorthants.co.uk

A COUPLE struck lucky at the weekend, after winning nearly £3.5 million on the National Lottery.

Chris Bowers, 61, and wife Sue, 60, from Wellingborough realised they had won Saturday's rollover sum after checking on their iPhone app.

The couple's six winning numbers 10, 18, 34, 35, 39, and 48, meant that they received a split of the jackpot, a total of £3,497,114 after buying a ticket at Wellingborough Sainsbury's.

Mr Bowers said: "I'm a gadget man and I've just got myself a new iPhone. On Saturday night, we were sitting there and we just put it on the search for the lottery and it come up with six little red dots and a tick. I said to Sue, 'I think we've won' but then we just sat there."

Mrs Bowers added: "We haven't slept properly for three nights."

Now Mr Bowers, who is a forklift truck engineer who has worked in Wellingborough and Northampton, will join his wife in retirement, after she retired from her admin job ten weeks ago.

The couple revealed that they first plan to buy a house in the area, where they intend to accommodate Mr Bowers' 92-year-old dad.

Mr Bowers said: "We've lived in the area since 1967 so we've no plans to move further away. I've got a 92-year-old dad and he lives near us at the moment but we want him with us, either in the house or with an annex."

He has looked after me so I want to look after him but he's already asking, 'can we buy the house yet?'. At 92 he still wants to rush." The couple also plan to buy a new car but have revealed that they will initially struggle to spend the vast amount of cash.

Mr Bowers added: "Yeah, I will get a nice new car. I had to sell my 4x4 recently and I'd like to get another one because we like to go around the country in our motorhome."

"The whole thing is just mind boggling."

"Sue likes her jewellery but, she'll struggle spending it first of all."

"She really will."

MEP gets shirty over plans to include European flag on national sporting kits

A MEMBER of the European Parliament that represents Northamptonshire has hit out at sports to include the European flag on national sports kits.

MEPs are backing calls to fly the EU flag at sporting events held in its territory and on national team shirts.

The proposals state that all national sports teams, including football, rugby, cricket and the British Olympic team, would be forced to have the EU's blue flag with yellow stars appear on their jerseys.

Conservative spokesperson for sports in European Parliament, Emma McClarkin, who represents the county, has called for the idea to be rejected.

She said: "Sport has a special place in the UK and our national sport teams form a key part of our identities and heritage."

"The EU has no business interfering in the badges worn on national team shirts - it is just another clear example of the EU vanity project at work."

"The EU cannot impose an artificial European identity on us by forcing our athletes to wear its emblem. Can you imagine Wayne Rooney or Jessica Ennis walking out into the arena sporting an EU flag on their kit?"

"It is simply daft and, needless to say, I will be opposing the plan when it is debated in the Parliament."

Cloudy2Clear – A Simple Way To Save Money

Cloudy2Clear Windows, the Northampton based window repair company, are revolutionising how homeowners view double glazing in our area. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as customers take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore is more than happy to explain the process. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. I find people are amazed at just how simple the process is and the speed with which we can replace the glass. This isn't like when you have new frames put in with people levering out the old ones with loads of mess. We can pop the old glass out and deliver, effectively, a brand new window within a matter of minutes. At the end of the day most frames, even timber ones, will last forever. It's very rare we come across a window that needs a full replacement and that means the customer gets, effectively, a new window at a fraction of the cost."

Trevor is rightly proud too of comments he receives back from satisfied customers, a selection of which he has put on his website www.cloudy2clear.co.uk. For example, he recently completed an installation at Mr Miners house in Northampton. Here's what he had to say: "I have to say that I thought the service Cloudy2Clear offer compared to having completely new windows absolutely incredible value. The service was reliable, simple and without complication."

The windows look absolutely brilliant and installation was incredibly quick. Thank you!"

High praise indeed! So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be more than happy to help!

Supporting the strikers

I WOULD like to add my support to those who went on strike in Northampton on June 30 to try to protect their pensions from another assault by this Coalition Government.

Deep cuts to funding of public services have already made their jobs ever more demanding and most have to put in longer working hours.

Teachers and frontline civil servants in Northampton are not public sector 'fat cats' but are in fact modestly paid for the hard work they do. They deserve our support as we would all be worse off without them.

I hope these strikes send David Cameron and Nick Clegg a message that you need to look after those who work in public services rather than fight them.

Road surfaces are our biggest danger

I HAVE just read Councillor John McGhee's diatribe in the Herald & Post of June 23 about the County Council's plans to reduce street lighting and I am faintly sickened at the shortness of his memory.

By far the greatest danger to the users of Northamptonshire's urban roads is the disgraceful state of their surfaces which are worse than any in the surrounding counties, as demonstrated by a photographic survey I carried out some years or so ago in support of a petition to Parliament.

This is not so much a result of two winters' bad weather, more a result of ten or more years of deliberate neglect by the former Labour council administration, which deliberately diverted funds intended for roads maintenance to the social services budget on the grounds that 'people are more important than roads'.

Well, people have to use the roads to get to work, hospital, doctors' surgeries and schools; HGV drivers have to use them to transport goods into and out of the county and the emergency services also have to use the roads in life and death situations... so which people are we talking about here? Are there any who do not rely absolutely on the safety of our roads?

Despite the current council's new, more effective policy for roads maintenance, at the current rate of progress pothole repairs and (admitted) necessary resurfacing will never restore our roads to the satisfactory condition they were in when I first moved to Northamptonshire in the late 1960s.

My recent petition to Parliament asking for corrective action was supported by virtually all public service bodies, including the ambulance and fire services, taxi firms, driving schools, repair garages, school teachers, dentists, doctor's practices and HGV drivers.

Even the Chief Constable at the time issued a letter of support.

No doubt Mr McGee is hoping to raise a similar barrage of complaint about street lighting... where the consequences of its reduction are predictions only, with no real life consequences yet apparent.

Mr McGhee is highlighting a problem before it has shown itself and is blowing it out of all proportion: the road maintenance problem has been with local council taxpayers for over ten years and is a direct result of his party's administration of the County Council.

It is always good for councillors to be forward looking but they should also look over their political shoulders before raising panic about problems which have yet to materialise.

The school run is not a parent's only job

I WOULD like to answer Ken Shields' letter that was published in the Herald & Post (June 23) as follows.

I would like to ask Mr Shields if he actually has children.

In these 'difficult times' of service cuts and 'austerity measures' both parents are needing to work to provide an adequate family income.

Public sector workers such as myself and my wife face no other option than to drive our children to St Luke's as my wife has to immediately go to work afterwards.

To suggest that my children should not be allowed into the classroom if driven to school is just plain fascism!

Mr Shields says that he has seen people drive their kids to a school that is less than ten minutes walk away.

Is he really wanting us to believe that he has been jogging alongside the car the whole time to find out the final destination? Maybe he should get a job, as he plainly has too much time on his hands.

As for freedom to choose a school. He obviously has not had children if he is willing to plump for the nearest rather than best school.

Our western civilisation is based on our ability to choose our own destiny. It is something we should cherish and be proud of.

His assertion that schools are 'much the same' also seems to be based on an assumption as OFSTED reports are in direct contradiction to this comment.

He is a prime example of the saying, empty vessels make most noise. I would suggest he research what he is talking about before broadcasting his ignorance.

Parents are not to blame for bad planning of roadways development. Much as civil servants are not to blame for the banking crisis.

Times are hard enough without having to suffer misdirected ire from people who have nothing better to do. I suggest you take up bird watching if observation is something you enjoy.

Girl left needing surgery after horrific sex attack

BY JONATHAN REILLY
jonathanreilly@HPnorthants.co.uk

A MAN who injured a girl so severely she required emergency surgery after a sex attack has been jailed for being 'dangerous.'

Edward Dawson, 31, from Thorplands, was jailed on Tuesday at Northampton Crown Court for 13 years and three months for assault by penetration on a girl who cannot be named for legal reasons.

The injury to intimate body parts had to be operated on under general anaesthetic at Northampton General Hospital.

Felicity Gerry, prosecuting, said that Dawson had originally claimed the injuries had been caused by accident.

She said: "Doctors examined the girl whilst under general anaesthetic and discovered that there was no chance that the injuries could have been caused by accident.

"They also discovered bruising that could only have been caused by being held by force."

Judge Michael Flower sentenced Dawson, who had no previous convictions, to prison with an extra six years on licence, meaning he could be recalled to jail once he is released until 2030.

Judge Fowler said: "This offence is particularly appalling, in which you left this girl with a very substantial injury."

"It is some unknown perversion that compelled you to do this and it seems to me that you pose a substantial risk of causing serious harm to young girls."

"Taking into account all the details of this offence, you are clearly a dangerous offender."

It's a sign of the times as minister drops in to unveil new plaque

A NEW plaque was unveiled this week at Northampton College by the minister for further education.

Minister John Hayes MP unveiled the sign and was taken on a guided tour of the state-of-the-art facilities in Lower Mounts, Northampton which have been open since September 2010.

Principal Len Closs said: "Our iconic building at Lower Mounts will provide learning and development opportunities for the town and its students both now and for many years to come.

"The fantastic facilities, in particular our training and commercial salons, have enabled us to relocate our entire hairdressing and beauty therapy provision to the town centre."

"We are delighted to welcome the Minister to officiate at our celebrations and we hope he will be impressed by what we believe is a considerable achievement."

Animals are not our entertainers

Circus animals are now quite rare in this country, thankfully.

It has been estimated that there are something in the region of 30 of them left.

They are not all exotic creatures like elephants and tigers - the number apparently includes five pigeons.

I am utterly opposed to the use of wild animals in circuses - I have been since before the case of Annie, the elephant who was seen on video being beaten by a groom supposed to be looking after her.

Like most British people I love animals and am nauseated by acts of cruelty or exploitation and, in the case of circuses, the obviously unnatural environments these animals perform in.

I hope that the small percentage of circuses that continue this practice will stop without the need for Government intervention.

After all there is simply no need for circuses to use animals anymore - British audiences are far more impressed with displays of human skill and athleticism such as can be seen with the excellent Cirque de Soleil.

I accept that most animals in British circuses are not mistreated in the awful way that Annie was and that the vast majority of handlers no doubt love the animals under their supervision.

However, the case is as simple as this - even if they are treated lovingly, these animals were not put on this earth to perform for our entertainment.

It is unnatural to make them perform in this fashion and I want it to stop as soon as possible.

I think this position can clearly be differentiated from zoos.

Current zoo practice is to make the environment for the animals they care for as close as possible to their natural habitat and the breeding programmes and biological studies conducted by zoos have no doubt saved several species from total extinction over the last few decades. It is unlikely the Giant Panda, for example, would still be with us had it not been for the determined effort to help them breed in captivity.

The Government has looked at a ban on circus animals in the UK both before and after the last General Election.

There is some concern as to how speedily a ban can be implemented - there are some legal obstacles to be jumped - but I have every confidence that the Government will take action on this as quickly as they can.

The House of Commons debated this subject last month and I signed a motion calling for the Government to implement a ban as soon as legally possible.

In the end, a similarly worded motion was passed unanimously.

With every vote in Parliament there are many people on both sides of each argument, but I am sure that this is one issue where the vast majority of the Great British public are on the same side - against the use of wild animals in circuses.

After all there is simply no need for circuses to use animals anymore - British audiences are far more impressed with displays of human skill and athleticism such as can be seen with the excellent Cirque de Soleil.

Cows get moo-dy when separated from their friends

BY JONATHAN REILLY

jonathan.reilly@HPnorthants.co.uk

RESEARCH produced by the University of Northampton has revealed that cows get stressed when separated from their best 'friends'.

The study has been produced by PhD student Krista McLennan, who has been working on the project at Moulton College's dairy farm.

Ms McLennan measured the animals' heart rates when separated randomly or with animals they had developed a bond with.

Ms McLennan said: "When cows have their preferred partner with them, their stress levels in terms of their heart rates are reduced compared with if they were with a random individual.

"It might mean that it is better for dairy farmers to work out which animals have the bonds and keep them together when going through particularly stressful activities."

The research, which Ms McLennan has been working on for four years, could help improve the productivity of dairy farming.

She added: "There is a large group farming system in this country so we might be inadvertently separating 'best friends' for long periods of time and we don't yet know how that might affect them in the long term.

"If we can encourage farmers to keep an eye out for those cows which like to keep their friends with them, it could have some real benefits, such as improving their milk yields and reducing stress for the animals, which is very important for their welfare."

"I've spoken to a number of farmers who have said they do notice bonds building among their cows and some spending a lot of time together."

Administrators in place at Diamonds

THE future of Rushden & Diamonds Football Club is still up in the air, although its existence in its current state is looking increasingly unlikely.

The Northamptonshire club has been the subject of financial turmoil over the last few months, with debts in excess of £750,000.

The club, having already been expelled from the Football Conference, was clinging to the hope of an appeal but that collapsed earlier this week when talks with potential Japanese investors fell through.

In a statement released this week the club's CEO Steve Beasant said: "Monday was the most difficult day I have ever had to deal with personally and as CEO for Rushden & Diamonds FC Ltd.

"After exhaustive negotiations with investors failed late on Sunday night, I have retracted the club's appeal, via our barrister's advice, details of which were sent to the FA yesterday, which has been acknowledged."

"The appeal had huge merit and we anticipated a positive outcome but without new investment the club is insolvent and could not continue."

After Mr Beasant initially claimed the club was in receivership, administrators were appointed yesterday at the high court. The administrators will try to rescue the company if possible or achieve a better result for the creditors.

Alan Clark of Carter Clark has taken on the role but immediately stated that the company was "not in a position to continue trading."

The future of the club will remain uncertain but another local club is looking to take advantage of the situation.

Northampton Town has announced that it will be running free buses from Wellingborough, Rushden and Irthlingborough for fans looking to go and see the Cobblers.

It's flower factor as blooms get judged

BY JODIE PARSONS

jodie.parsons@HPnorthants.co.uk

THE flower power of Northampton's floral displays went under the microscope yesterday as the East Midlands in Bloom judges came to inspect the town's efforts.

It was decision day as competition officials made their official visit to judge how well the town has done in this year's contest.

They were given a tour of Northampton's many parks and open spaces, including Abington Park and Bradlaugh Fields.

They also saw civic floral displays, allotments and streets lined with hanging baskets.

Their tour included looking at school gardens at Bridgewater Drive Primary School and community projects and gardens in St Andrew's Hospital, Spinney Hill, Kettering Road and St Mark's Gardens.

After being greeted by Borough Council representatives, including its leader Cllr David Palethorpe, the judges started their tour where representatives of Northampton Town Centre Business Improvement District showed how businesses have supported the competition and invested in making the town centre a vibrant and inviting place.

Forty-five businesses that are part of the BID have supported Northampton's efforts with more than 200 floral displays in hanging baskets, containers and troughs in the town centre and on some of the major roads leading into the town.

These are in addition to almost 300 baskets and troughs provided by Northampton Borough Council. Cllr John Yates, Northampton Borough Council cabinet member for planning and the environment, said: "Everyone has made a fantastic effort to get involved in Bloom."

"In parks, private and community gardens and in the town centre, things are really looking good this summer and that is a tribute to the hard work and enthusiasm of the many people involved."

The town will find out its fate in September.

Bid to aid 24,000 young in poverty

BY JONATHAN REILLY
jonathan.reilly@hpnorthants.co.uk

A CHARITY is launching a new appeal after startling figures revealed that one in seven children in Northamptonshire lives in poverty.

The Northamptonshire Community Foundation is hoping to raise £100,000 to help give the poorest children in the county a better life.

The charity believe that there could be as many as 24,000 youngsters living under the bread line which has further repercussions on their education, health and future.

In Northampton, Lumbertubs is the area with the highest child poverty with 42 per cent.

To reach this target the charity is willing to match every £1 donated to the Child Poverty Appeal in order to double the total amount raised.

The money will then be used to provide life changing grants that will benefit children in need across the county.

Victoria Miles, chief executive of Northamptonshire Community Foundation, pictured, said: "We are pledging £50,000 of our own funds to encourage people to add to this much needed appeal."

"In this day and age no child should have to suffer poverty and this target would ensure that we can make a huge and very real difference to the lives of local children.

"Today's reality is shocking, with nearly 24,000 children in this county living in poverty.

"Some are not getting a decent meal and whole families are struggling to make ends meet which has a huge impact on youngest members of families.

"Children in poverty are less likely to do well at school, are more likely to suffer health problems, are more likely to die in infancy and are five times more likely to die in an accident.

"I would urge people to give and, remember, we can double all your donations. So, whether you want to give pennies or pounds, please text, go online, write a cheque or even raid your piggy banks. This new fund will help us reduce child poverty in Northamptonshire."

To donate £5 to the fund you can text CPOV11 £5 to 70070.

Investment cash is a great boost to children's services

MORE than £5.5 million has been spent developing children's centres across the county.

The massive investment was celebrated this week with the opening of a new facility in Upton Meadows, Northampton on Tuesday.

A total of 19 new centres have been selected to make sure children and their families can use the services across the county.

These new facilities bring the total in Northamptonshire to 50.

Most of the new centres are now operating - providing a welcoming environment to support families and children.

Each one delivers a range of services, some of which are common to all centres, and some which are designed with the needs of the local community in mind.

Children centres services can include access to family and parenting support, training and employment for families, health services, education and childcare.

OPENING: Cllr David Mackintosh cuts the ribbon at the new centre

Don't wait to address dementia health fears

BY JONATHAN REILLY

jonathan.reilly@HPnorthants.co.uk

PEOPLE with concerns about dementia are being told to get advice as soon as possible.

During Dementia Awareness Week Northamptonshire County Council is offering to support the believed 7,000 people in the county suffering from the condition.

The authority thinks that by 2025, this figure is expected to have increased by 50 per cent.

However, less than half of those currently affected by the condition are known to the council or health organisations.

Councillor Robin Brown, county council cabinet member for health and adult social services, said: "Memory problems are common and as we get older it's not unusual for people to notice that their memories are becoming less reliable."

"This can be because of tiredness, stress, anxiety, depression and being over-worked can cause us to become more absent-minded."

"However, sometimes memory loss can be an early sign of dementia and it's important that if people are concerned, they go to see their GP sooner rather than later."

"The earlier you seek help the better, as there may be support or treatment available that can help you."

Dementia is not a single illness but a group of symptoms caused by damage to the brain including Alzheimer's disease.

Vascular dementia is the second most common and can be caused by high blood pressure, heart problems, high cholesterol and diabetes.

The county council is working with the NHS to deliver improvements to the services available to people with dementia and their carers in line with the priorities set out for action by the National Dementia Strategy 'Living Well with Dementia'.

People or their friends and family affected by it can contact a dementia care adviser by emailing adultcare@northamptonshire.gov.uk

Lewis GP rush to hit roads

DRIVERS are being reminded roads will be closed as the county gears up for the Grand Prix at Silverstone.

The A43 between Towcester and Syresham will be shut to through traffic from tomorrow until Sunday.

Motorists who usually use the A43 are advised to find an alternative route, with diversions in place.

And if you can avoid the A43 completely, people are advised to do so as it will be extremely busy with race traffic as a large crowd is expected in the hope of seeing British drivers Jenson Button and Lewis Hamilton successful on home soil.

The A43 will be closed to traffic to allow the one-way systems to operate - it is anticipated that they will be operational from 4.30am (inbound) and 12.30pm (outbound) on all three days, although timings may change.

A police spokesman said: "We strongly advise anyone not going to the Grand Prix to steer clear of Silverstone for the duration of the meeting. "Diversion routes will be put in place to take traffic away from the circuit and we will be keeping the travelling public fully informed during the event with bulletins on national and local radio."

Temporary 'crossover' features are being added to the A43 by the Highways Agency to enable the dual-carriageway lanes to become one-way.

'Suspicious' fire wrecks car garage

BY JODIE PARSONS

jodie.parsons@HNorthants.co.uk

ABOUT 150 people were evacuated from their homes in the early hours of Friday morning after a major blaze at a garage.

A 200m cordon was set up after the fire broke out at EWX Automotive in Cecil Road, in the Kingsthorpe area of Northampton.

Forty-five fire fighters were on the scene to tackle the inferno which involved a number of gas cylinders containing argon, oxygen, acetylene and propane.

The ground floor, first floor and roof of the two-storey workshop were destroyed.

Two other properties were also damaged, while a further six suffered blast damage.

Nearby gardens and garden equipment were also affected.

The cause of the fire is under investigation but police are treating it as suspicious.

Officers are appealing for witnesses and would like to speak to anyone who may have seen a group of youths in the area at around midnight.

Anyone who saw a white Fiat Punto, or similar car, in the area is also asked to get in contact.

Call Northamptonshire Police on 03000 111 222 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Garden prowler fires gun at man

BY JONATHAN REILLY

jonathan.reilly@HPnorthants.co.uk

A MAN was shot in the leg outside his home in what police have described as an 'usual incident'.

The serious assault took place in the Briar Hill area of Northampton late last Wednesday night.

Between 11.30pm and 11.50pm the victim, a 31-year-old man, heard a noise at the back door of his home in Bern Links.

Northamptonshire Police said the man went outside to investigate and saw a man crouched down, dressed in dark clothing and carrying a firearm.

The gun was fired once, injuring

Bern Links

the victim in the calf which required treatment at Northampton General Hospital.

The offender is described as a man of stocky build, around 6ft tall.

It is believed he left the scene in a BMW estate car which contained at least one other occupant.

The car made off down Ashbrow Road and was later found burned out just off the Newport Pagnell Road on the back route to Great Houghton village.

A police spokesman said: "This is an unusual incident and is believed to be isolated.

"Anyone who witnessed the incident or who can recall this vehicle being in Briar Hill or leaving the area, should contact Northampton CID."

Anyone with information, should call 03000 111 222 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Too many mouths to feed at rescue centre

BY JONATHAN REILLY

jonathan.reilly@HPnorthants.co.uk

A COUNTY animal charity is appealing for food donations after being inundated with abandoned pets.

Animals in Need has been struggling to re-home all the creatures that have been coming into their Little Irchester sanctuary in recent months.

While they are not seeing any more animals come in than usual the charity has said that it is struggling to re-house many of them and needs more food to cope.

The charity's Annie Marriot said: "We have got so many animals coming in, dogs in particular.

HAPPY ENDING: The abandoned pups

"We aren't seeing any more than normal but we are really having difficulties re-homing them. It's a quiet time of year before people go away for the summer but we are being kept very busy."

However, they have recently had one good news story, after a litter of abandoned puppies all found new homes.

Mrs Marriot said: "They were brought in by a woman who found them dumped down the road.

"They were covered with lice and worms but we cleaned them up and they have all got new homes to go to.

"At the moment they are in a foster home but they'll be off to their new families once they are eight weeks old and have had their jabs."

Warning after man fined for junk dump

BY JONATHAN REILLY
jonathan.reilly@HNorthants.co.uk

A COUNCIL has said it is 'pleased' a man was fined more than £200 for illegally dumping rubbish and hope it serves as a warning to others.

Andrew Fury, 22, of Southfield Avenue, Northampton charged a household in Northampton £40 to remove waste that had accumulated in their garage.

The junk was subsequently found abandoned in a field by Norton village near Daventry and was traced to Fury by officers from Daventry District Council (DDC). At Northampton Magistrates' Court Fury was found guilty at a court hearing last month which he did not attend.

After a warrant was issued for his arrest he was detained and taken back to court on June 16.

He was fined £100 and ordered to pay costs of £100 and a victim support surcharge of £15.

Councillor Daniel Cribbin, environment portfolio holder at DDC, said: "We are pleased that this individual was successfully prosecuted for illegally dumping rubbish following an investigation by Daventry District Council and it will hopefully serve as a warning to other people thinking of doing the same thing.

"Members of the public are reminded that they are responsible for their waste and they can either take it to a licensed waste disposal site or use a registered waste carrier to dispose of their rubbish, such as a skip hire company."

People can check to see if a waste carrier is licensed or alternatively find a licensed waste carrier in their area, by calling the Environment Agency on 0870 8506506 or visiting www.environment-agency.gov.uk/publicregister

Ambulance and car collide

AN ambulance driver was injured following a road traffic collision near Earls Barton on Sunday afternoon.

The ambulance car was responding to an emergency incident in Northampton when at 4.35pm it was in collision with a Volvo on the westbound carriageway between the Earls Barton turn and the Esso petrol station.

It was then in collision with a road sign and left the carriageway, causing injury to the driver, a 30-year-old man from Wollaston.

He was taken to Northampton General Hospital with a serious eye injury.

Anyone with information, should contact the Drivewatch Hotline on 0800 174615.

Arrest after drugs raid

NEARLY 100 harvested pots of cannabis, 37 plants and equipment were seized and destroyed after officers carried out a warrant.

Police from the South West Sector Safer Community Team executed a Misuse of Drugs Act warrant on Thursday in Glasgow Street, Northampton, and made the discovery.

Local intelligence also revealed links with an associated address in St James Park Road where officers discovered another 18 fully grown cannabis plants and numerous already harvested pots, along with hundreds of pounds worth of hydroponics equipment. This was also seized and destroyed.

A man was arrested on suspicion of drugs offences.

Retail adviser Christine back in business with new boutique

BUSINESSWOMAN Christine Blowman is opening a new boutique this Saturday.

The Wootton Village Boutique in Northampton is set to offer a large choice and combination of products under one roof.

The large village store will sell women's clothing, handbags and accessories as well as unusual gifts and stylish shabby chic home accessories.

Ms Blowman said: "The boutique will offer a huge range of different products to suit all ages and interests."

Former Northamptonshire Retailer of the Year and Business Woman of the Year Christine was headhunted by a Government department to lead a national retail project.

Working with key national and international retail organisations she helped raise the profile of careers in the retail sector.

She is also a specialist consultant to independent retailers helping them grow.

Manufacturer's changes helps company to grow

IN the last 12 months, Tom Bennett and his son, Rob, have advanced significantly their subcontract business, Scot Bennett Engineering Limited.

This is through installing a modern turning plant, selling off their final six single-spindle cam automatics and purchasing a new machining centre to strengthen its capability and capacity.

To help prepare between 60 and 100 machining set-ups per week, traditional job cards are soon to be replaced by production software in another significant investment by the subcontractor.

Headcount has also increased in the past year by 20 per cent to 12 people, one of whom is apprentice, Rob Davis.

He started in April and from next September will study part-time for an advanced apprenticeship in manufacturing at Northampton College, where he will work towards an NVQ Level 3.

Northampton North MP Michael Ellis met Rob at the end of June when he made an unofficial visit to see the firm.

Mr Ellis has been advising the company in connection with local issues, not least the possibility of Northampton becoming an enterprise zone.

He said: "I am delighted that such a relatively small manufacturing company should decide to train a member of staff, rather than employ an experienced setter-operator."

"It is testament to Tom and Rob's commitment not just to their own company but to UK manufacturing as a whole."

Founded by Tom Bennett in 1974 after 24 years in Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers (REME), the subcontract business was joined in the early 90s by Rob, following a 15 year career as an engineer in the Royal Navy, Submarine Service.

Today, the company manufactures small and large batches of components in short lead-times for about 60 customers in the hydraulic, agricultural, catering and dental sectors.

It also regularly works as third-tier supplier to the aerospace and automotive industries.

Looking ahead, Scot Bennett Engineering is planning to look for a more modern, purpose built manufacturing facility to continue its development as a high technology subcontract machining company.

Takeaway has a dream role, as long as you like pizza

A RESTAURANT is looking for the perfect role for the town's pizza lovers.

Papa John's Northampton is looking for someone to become a 'pizza tester'.

The lucky pizza tester will be asked to provide feedback in return for the mouth-watering prize.

Store franchise owner Sukwinder Kaur Sandhu said: "Here at Papa John's we are always developing new ideas for our menu and we want to invite someone local to Northampton to test our new pizzas, ensuring we retain our very high standards." Papa John's is the world's third largest pizza chain with more than 3,500 stores in 29 countries.

To be in with the chance of becoming the official Northampton pizza tester, visit www.papajohns.co.uk/pizza-testers

Gareth to give area a group it deserves

BY JODIE PARSONS

jodie.parsons@HPhNorthants.co.uk

PEOPLE are being invited to get involved with a bid to revive a residents' association.

Northampton Borough Councillor Gareth Eales, who represents Spencer ward, is aiming to re-launch the Spencer & Dallington Residents' Association.

He hopes to bring the defunct group back to life and feels it is wrong that the group was previously allowed to cease.

Residents' associations are committees formed with residents, business owners, police groups and council representatives.

They focus on environmental matters, community safety and any other issue that concerns people in the area and raise it with the relevant public authority.

Cllr Eales has organised a launch meeting on Thursday, July 28 at 7pm at Spencer Dallington Community Centre in Tintern Avenue, Northampton.

All residents in the Spencer area are welcome to attend.

Cllr Eales said: "Spencer is a fantastic community and it's a real privilege to serve the local area."

"It deserves a strong residents' association and I'm hoping people come along and be a part of it and help move Spencer and Dallington forward."

Bid to cut down on nuisance at park

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

A TWO-month crime operation is underway on Northampton's Racecourse aimed at tackling crime and anti-social behaviour during the summer months.

Northampton's north sector Safer Community Team is running the operation and a minimum of two uniformed officers will be dedicated to it each day at identified key times.

High-visibility foot patrols will take place around the town's largest area of green space and officers will be using off-road bikes, the mobile police station and other police vehicles to maximise visibility in the area.

The operation will be complementing the Force's countywide operations of Guardian and Nightsafe, which tackle serious acquisitive crime (robbery, burglary and vehicle crime) and alcohol-related crime and disorder respectively.

Sergeant Martin Treen said: "The Racecourse is enjoyed by thousands of people every week and often without incident.

"As the nights become lighter, however, there can be an increase of incidents reported owing to the fact that the park is being used for longer periods and by more people.

"We will be patrolling the Racecourse to provide reassurance and to be on hand if assistance is required.

"If you are on the Racecourse, please approach those officers on patrol and discuss any concerns and questions you may have in relation to the area.

"We do advise anyone to use the Racecourse as a short cut at night time, instead stick to well-lit and used paths.

"People are more vulnerable if they are walking at night in dimly-lit areas and this is crime prevention advice we would give generally, not just the Racecourse or any other park for that matter."

WILL TAKES SAILING TITLE
ROOKIE sailors took to the water to take part in the 2011 Northampton Watersports Centre Schools Regatta last week.

Despite some of them only stepping into a boat for the first time quite recently, youngsters from five schools across Northampton got into the competitive spirit.

The event was open to all children who had learned to sail through RYA OnBoard, the nationwide scheme providing youngsters with the chance to sail regularly at low cost during the summer term.

The top prize went to Northampton School for Boys' Will Evans, 13, his schoolmate Harvey Ryan, also 13, came second and 15-year-old Baz Hill from Northamptonshire Grammar School was third.

School children are beginning to look forward to the end of term and the start of the summer holidays. But I am sure the excitement of the long break will soon be replaced with the dreaded cry of 'I'm bored'. Although this may send chills down the spine of parents trying to keep youngsters amused, the holidays don't have to be such hard work.

There are plenty of options to keep your children entertained once they are tired of playing outdoors, spending time with friends or family, creative and crafty ideas you can do at home or even... the TV or computer games!

Many groups, organisations and centres are now putting together plans for holiday activities so if you need something different to offer your child there is bound to be something on offer.

From one off days or week-long schemes, a host of activities will be provided on your doorstep during the holidays.

And the good thing with many of these schemes is they get youngsters active. From trying out different sports or learning a new hobby or skill - children can relish being part of a group getting together to have fun.

There are also different visits they can enjoy and places to see. These fun activities are sure to bring a smile to their faces and give them the chance to have the fun they deserve during that longed for break.

Art makes public debut

ART

TWO new pieces of art for the Northampton Museum and Art Gallery will go on show to the public for the first time today.

The artworks have been made possible thanks to £10,000 worth of funding from Renaissance East Midlands as part of a project which aims to develop community engagement initiatives that increase access to collections.

A group of women from Grange Park WI and Platform 51 (formerly the YWCA) worked with glass artist Sue Purser-Hope to create one of two intergenerational artworks that will become part of the museum's collection.

Members of Northamptonshire Association for the Blind worked with wood carver Jeremy Turner to create the second piece.

Cllr Michael Hill, Borough Council cabinet member for museums, said: "It is really good news that Renaissance East Midlands has been able to support two local community activities so that all visitors to the museum can enjoy them."

They can be seen from 3pm today. The gallery is open Tuesday to Sunday. Admission is free.

Youth cast's comic capers

THEATRE

ONE of Shakespeare's funniest and most farcical comedies will come to life in a thrilling, contemporary production.

Royal & Derngate's Youth Theatre's The Comedy of Errors will be performed tomorrow and Saturday.

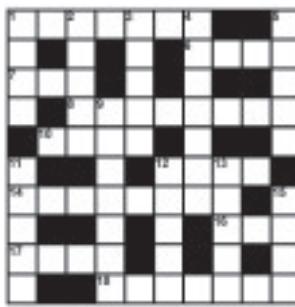

A hilarious tale of mistaken identity, the story follows two sets of identical twins that were accidentally separated at birth and the escalating chaos that ensues when they are reunited.

Set in a London-esque world of imagination and fancy dress, the 19-strong Youth Theatre cast brings this Shakespearean favourite of slapstick humour, puns and wordplay into the modern age.

Directed by Tom Wright the cast of 14 to 21 year olds have been exploring themes of the show since January and rehearsing intensively since May, including working with a professional fight director.

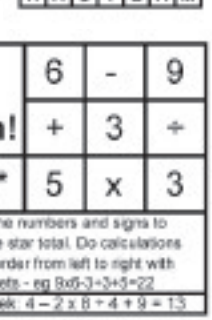

You can see the show at 7.30pm tomorrow and at 2.30pm and 7.30pm on Saturday. Tickets are £7 from 01604 624811 or www.royalandderngate.co.uk.

THIS week we caught up with the Hollywood legend that is Tom Hanks who was in town to promote his brand new rom-com Larry Crowne, in which not only does he star but also directs and produces. The film also stars Julia Roberts, with who he starred alongside in Charlie Wilson's War.

Tom told us: "I called Julia up and said this is a business call, will you let me be your boss for a while."

He wanted her to play an intimidating teacher and revealed: "Julia is intimidating in many ways, one is because she's so striking, her personality is so great, she's so smart and can be so tough."

He then went on to say: "When you have Julia and I in a movie, it takes care of an awful lot of shorthand regarding the character."

In non-Hollywood speak, we think he means box office hit.

We also chatted with Supernanny Jo Frost and had a bit of fun posing spoof problems we've had with one another (if you have kids, you'll relate to some of these).

We started with Stuart's tantrums in supermarkets.

Jo advised: "Do you set up expectations? Do you say we are going to go in now, get what we came in for and then get out and no you can't have anything from the counter?"

We do now. On Natalie throwing her food across the room Jo suggested: "You need to implement some hard discipline."

And on Stuart throwing a tantrum about his outfit and taking it off in public Jo said: "Why don't you give him a choice of two." Aah brilliant, although we thought sewing up the buttons so he can't get out of them might be best.

PANTOMIME

THOUGHTS have turned to Christmas at Royal & Derngate which has announced the stars of this year's pantomime.

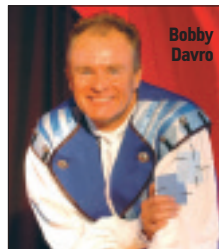

Their spectacular production of Aladdin will be led by comedian Bobby Davro and children's favourite Basil Brush.

Taking the role of Wishee Washee, Davro is a man of many talents - comedian, impressionist, game-show host and actor.

His breakthrough came with his appearance on Live at Her Majesty's, followed by his own Saturday night series, Bobby Davro on The Box, which topped the ratings for six years and made him a household name.

Basil Brush will play Chief Inspector Basil.

Since making his screen debut in the 1960s, the famous fox has appeared on countless television programmes and has hosted numerous series of his own shows.

Bobby Davro

Jonathan Kiley, executive producer of the show, said: "Comedy will be at the heart of this year's Royal & Derngate pantomime and we are delighted that Bobby and Basil will lead a superb cast in a fabulous production of Aladdin.

"Bobby is an outstanding performer, a huge talent and is one of the country's most sought-after pantomime performers and together with Basil Brush I have no doubt that Northampton audiences will laugh the whole way through this unmissable pantomime."

Staged by Qdos Entertainment, Aladdin will be packed with panto ingredients such as comedy, a flying carpet, stunning sets and beautiful costumes.

Aladdin will run from December 9 to January 8, 2012.

Tickets can be booked on 01604 624811.

Royal & Derngate
Tomorrow at 8.15pm

THE theatre's comedy club is back with compere Dan Evans introducing a fantastic line up including illusionist Otiz Cannelloni, the sharp-witted Johnny Candon and the entertaining Steve Day.

Cannelloni combines brilliant stand-up with the illusion of magic to create an act which sits between comic genius, outright lunacy and utter stupidity.

A laid back comedian whose material seems perfectly unrehearsed, Candon has the ability to make the mundane funny.

Warm, witty and engaging while dealing with the dilemmas of being a deaf man in a hearing world, Day has performed worldwide for the past eleven years.

SHARED HOME OWNERSHIP DOESN'T MEAN HALF MEASURES

BRIDLEWAYS, NORTHAMPTON

Shared home ownership is the smarter way to get on the property ladder – you choose a property you like, buy a share you can afford and pay a subsidised rent on the rest. You save substantially on renting a similar property privately and you can increase your share at any time all the way to 100%.

But buying your first home in manageable, affordable stages doesn't mean compromise - our properties are built to a specification you'll be proud to call home. For example, the one and two bedroom apartments at Bridleways, Northampton feature modern, fitted kitchens with a built-in stainless steel finished oven and integrated hob and most homes benefit from a private, allocated parking space.

Genesis is one of the UK's leading providers of shared ownership properties and gets people from all walks of life onto the property ladder. Bridleways is open on selected days, call to secure your viewing.

KIA has celebrated its 20th anniversary of being in the UK with the launch of three major all-new models. Yes, it is two decades since its first car went on sale in this country.

Back in 1991 the Kia Pride was the only Kia model on sale in the UK and the small hatchback went on to find 1786 British homes in its debut year.

Since then the firm has changed beyond all recognition and grown at an extraordinary rate to become a major global brand.

In 2010 Kia recorded its best ever year in the UK with 56,114 vehicles sold – a feat matched at an international level as Kia sold in excess of two million vehicles worldwide for the first time.

Early models such as the Pride and first generations of the Sportage crossover and Sedona MPV were renowned for offering great value for money and brought many customers to the brand.

Recent models such as the European designed and manufactured cee'd, along with Kia's industry-leading seven year warranty, have built the South Korean firm a reputation for quality and reliability.

The appointment of Peter Schreyer as chief design officer in 2006 coincided with a shift in direction for the brand to put exciting design at the heart of all its new products and to appeal first and foremost on an emotional level.

The popularity of stunning new models such as the Soul urban crossover, Venga mini-MPV, Sportage and all-new Picanto is testament to these efforts.

Commenting on Kia's 20th UK anniversary, Michael Cole, managing director, Kia Motors (UK) Limited, said: "Kia has been on quite a phenomenal journey in recent years. "In less than two decades we've certainly lived up to our 'Power to Surprise' slogan by growing from a relatively small importer to challenging the best and most established brands in the industry.

"We think we have a fantastic range of cars and, judging by our growth over the last few years, it seems our customers think so too!

"2011 is set to be our busiest year yet and I'm confident it'll be one where we challenge perceptions more than ever as we launch three superb new products in the UK – new Picanto, new Rio and, later in the year, new Kia Optima."

Kia Motors Corporation is considerably older than its UK subsidiary having recently celebrated its own 67th anniversary in May.

From its origins of making bikes in the 1950s Kia has now grown to be part of the fourth largest automotive group in the world- present in more than 170 countries.

Reeve deals body blow to Salimov

BOXING

A STUNNING third round knockout of former Olympian Salim Salimov saw Nathan Reeve maintain the unbeaten start to his professional career at the Park Inn Hotel on Saturday evening.

The Northampton super bantamweight prospect wore down the Bulgarian with a sustained attack to his body before unleashing a crunching right uppercut that saw Salimov fall to the canvas to be counted out by referee Jeff Hinds at 2:34.

The 2004 European Championship bronze medalist tried switching to the southpaw stance and showboating in an attempt to unnerve Reeve, but had no answer to the 21-year-old's pre-fight plan of going to the body early on.

"I'm really happy with the result because of what he achieved at amateur level and he took British flyweight champion Ashley Sexton the distance over six rounds," said the former Far Cotton Boys amateur.

"I went down [to the body] from the first bell and to start with he was taking it well. I was thinking, 'Is he feeling this?', but when I went back to my corner they told me he was tiring from it and to keep it up.

"He was switching southpaw and I was taking a step back to try and think because it's a completely different game plan when you are fighting southpaws, but my corner told me not to give him a breather and to keep attacking him.

"I hit him with a right and left to the body and then caught him on the chin with the uppercut. As soon as he went down, I knew he wasn't going to get back up from it."

It was a good night for the town's other boxers who were in action, with featherweight Ash Lane and light heavyweight Liam Daly both recording points victories in their respective contests.

Lane faced a rematch of his first pro contest against Ryan McNicol after his scheduled opponent withdrew earlier in the week – their previous encounter having been halted in the second round due to a severe cut above Lane's left eye.

Straight from the first bell it was an all-out toe-to-toe war, with both fighters raining in punches in bunches. Lane opened up a small cut above McNicol's left eye in the second, but was also cut himself by the right eye in the same round.

Unlike their previous bout, that did not stop Lane and he claimed the first win of his pro career with referee Hinds giving the southpaw all four rounds, much to the disgust of Glasgow's McNicol (2(2)-9-2) who clearly felt he deserved something.

The British Boxing Board of Control has since nominated the contest as one of three for Midlands Area fight of the year so far.

Daly was up against durable Doncaster journeyman James Tucker, who looked better than his pre-fight 3(1)-39-3 record suggests. Nevertheless, Daly rose to the challenge.

The former Kings Heath amateur took a patient approach, working well behind the jab and picking his shots to improve his pro record to 3-0 by taking all four rounds on referee Hinds' scorecard.

The evening closed with Jamie Spence being presented with his British Masters light welterweight belt that he won against Kristian Laight back in April. Spence now looks set to defend that title in September.

Skipper Hall stuck in 'recurring nightmare'

BY MARC BAZELEY

marc.bazeley@hpnorthants.co.uk

AT THE start of the Friends Life t20, the question on everyone's lips was where had it all gone right for Northamptonshire. They sat proudly atop of the LV= County Championship Division Two and second in Clydesdale Bank 40 Group B, still the only unbeaten team in the country.

To say then that their experience in this year's FLt20 has been a chastening one would be something of an understatement. After 11 games the Steelbacks remain rooted to the foot of the North Division with just one win and four points – two of which came from matches abandoned due to rain.

It was not meant to be this way. Northants have excelled in the game's shortest format, reaching the quarter finals in five of the previous six seasons, including a trip to the finals day at Edgbaston in 2009 where they lost out to eventual winners Sussex Sharks in a close-fought semi.

"It's like a recurring nightmare for us at the moment," said captain Andrew Hall after his side suffered a six wicket defeat against East Midlands rivals Leicestershire Foxes at Grace Road on Sunday.

"We keep doing the same things every single game and the annoying fact is that we talk about it, but just haven't seemed to rectify it.

"We keep losing wickets at inopportune times, when guys are getting set they get 20 or 30 and no-one seems to be getting a decent score for us.

"When it comes to the back end of the innings, we are left with one or two guys trying to play a few lusty blows.

"Last year, teams were under pressure and we could look to work the ball around before we had to have a go.

"You lose a couple of wickets and you get new guys in at the crease with no runs on the board, then you have to try and find your way back into it.

"It's quite difficult for the guys in the lower order to get the runs, and especially in the bowling department to try and defend those."

And yet, it was just over two weeks ago that they were romping to an innings and 155 run victory over the same opponents on the same ground in the County Championship. A defeat to Essex – their only four-day loss of the season so far – followed, but Northants still remain 32 points clear of second-placed Middlesex.

A chronic lack of runs has been the main sticking point for the Steelbacks during this competition. The only two half centuries by their batsmen have both come from Alex Wakely, while the team have managed to total more than 135 on just two occasions.

Contrast that with the other limited overs competition, the CB40, and five batsmen have all passed 50.

Indeed, Niall O'Brien has achieved that feat twice as well as scoring a century.

It is a similar story in the County Championship, where both Hall and Rob White are on course to pass the magical 1,000 runs for the season mark.

Injuries have also meant that there has had to be some shuffling of the batting order during the FLt20. Big hitter David Sales has only featured twice, while Mal Loye's troublesome groin injury has seen him ruled out of the entire Twenty20 campaign.

Chaminda Vaas, who has starred in the 'attacking opener' role, and O'Brien have also missed parts of the competition, with head coach David Capel now looking to blood some of the up-and-coming youngsters for the remainder of the tournament.

After four days without a game, Northants return to action tomorrow night when they host Nottinghamshire Outlaws under the floodlights, which is followed by the final Twenty20 home game against Lancashire Lightning next Tuesday.

Although things have not gone as planned in the FLt20, skipper Hall urged his teammates to remain positive with the second half of the County Championship and CB40 still to come.

"The message I gave to the boys was that the hard work is not going to go unnoticed, and if we keep doing the hard work then we are going to get our just rewards whether it's in the CB40 or the Championship," he said.

"Either way we will get our rewards, but we just have to keep working hard.

"Someone is going to catch it somewhere along the line where we are going to be playing a decent game [in the FLt20], so it's just about making sure that we get it right.

"We're still very confident in the Championship, so we'll have to have a look, see how things go and see what we are going to do for the next couple of games."

Di Resta: Silverstone will be one of season's highlights

FORMULA ONE

PAUL di Resta will get to experience his first British Grand Prix as a fully-fledged Formula One driver this weekend, and the Force India rookie cannot wait.

Last year saw him limited to a few laps of the Silverstone circuit in Friday free practice when he held the role of the team's test/reserve drivers. Over the winter, he stepped up to replace Tonio Liuzzi and is now looking forward to being in the thick of the action at his home Grand Prix.

"Coming to Silverstone as a Formula One driver will feel very special," di Resta (pictured right) said. "It's going to be one of the highlights of the season and a very busy weekend.

"I remember last year that the atmosphere was just incredible.

"The British fans love Formula One, the grandstands are always packed and the whole place feels alive. I can't wait to feel that buzz again this year."

Di Resta would love nothing more than to emulate fellow Scottish racers Jim Clarke, Jackie Stewart and David Coulthard in winning the race, but this year the immediate target is a top ten qualifying position and a points finish. It is also a venue that di Resta has little experience of, saying: "Silverstone is not a track where I've raced at much in the past. My only race to date has been on the national circuit in a Formula Renault.

"So when I drove in free practice last year it was my first experience of the full Grand Prix circuit.

"It's a great lap and a place where you can really feel a Formula One car excel through the quick corners.

"And this year, with the new layout, there's a high-speed end of the lap so it will be interesting to see how the tyres hold on in qualifying."

It is a venue that team-mate Adrian Sutil particularly enjoys, as do many of the drivers in the field.

He said: "Silverstone is a great circuit. I like the high-speed section through Copse, Maggots and Becketts, which feels very nice to drive.

"It's definitely a place where you feel the performance of an F1 car.

"And after three street circuits, it will be a nice change to be back at a traditional old-school circuit.

"They changed the circuit last year and I have to say I enjoy the new layout just as much as the old one.

"The new turns, one and two, make up a really quick right-left chicane and it's taken almost flat in qualifying.

"I also think that the new layout makes it a bit easier to overtake because the old lap was so quick that it was almost impossible to follow a car closely."

FOOTBALL

ARRON Davies is delighted to being re-united with Gary Johnson after joining Northampton Town on a two-year contract.

Cobblers boss Johnson has previously signed the midfielder during his spells in charge of Yeovil Town and Peterborough United.

And when he became aware of Davies' imminent release by Peterborough, he was quick to make contact and snap him up for a third time.

Davies said: "I've signed for him twice before and he obviously likes something in me as well.

Last year when he played me it was working well.

"He's a good manager, he's been successful, I know the aim for this year will be promotion and that's what I want.

"I want to win things and try to play at as high a level as I possibly can.

"He's relentless in wanting to win and wanting to improve players, and I think he has got the best out of me.

"When I first went to Yeovil, I was a young lad and he turned me into a good player. He started

Third time's a charm for Davies

my career and I've ended up having a good career off of him. It's just his desire to win, he won't settle for second best. I'm sure the players know that from last year and promotion will be the only thing he will talk about I'm sure."

Davies is the second ex-Posh player to move to Sixfields this summer, joining right back Nana who has also signed a two-year contract following his loan spell at Northampton last season.

The 27-year-old spoke to both Nana and goalkeeper Steve Collis, who was also on loan to the Cobblers earlier this year before making the move, and both had good things to say about the club.

He also had no problems with dropping down to League Two, saying: "I probably could have sat it out and maybe gone elsewhere, but I've had a good working relationship with the gaffer.

"I know this season is going to be about winning games and getting promoted, and you want to be in an atmosphere where your winning games rather than slogging it out because the season can drag on if you're not winning games.

"We've just got to have that mentality of trying to win every game. That's probably not going to be possible, but if everyone has got that mindset and you're there at end of the season then that's what we need to be."

Although regarded primarily as a winger, Davies is capable of playing anywhere in midfield and indicated his willingness to play a more central role.

That was where he featured for Peterborough during Johnson's time in charge there. Davies said: "I played there last year under Gary, but I can play anywhere really.

"It can work for you or against you, but I can play anywhere across the middle. This year I want to stay centre mid, but as the season goes on then I could end up playing anywhere and I'm fine with that.

"My mindset is to come in, get as fit as I can, do as well as I can and perform on the pitch.

"I've gone a couple of years where I've not been playing 40 games a year and hopefully I can do that this year.

"Hopefully it could be 60 if we have a good run in the cups, but the main thing is just playing football. I believe I'm a good player and this is the place I can get the best out of myself."

GARY Johnson admits he is struggling to keep calm ahead of the new season because of the high quality of players that he believes he has brought to Northampton Town.

Despite finishing 17th in League Two during the 2010/11 season, the Cobblers manager has his sights set firmly on promotion after completely overhauling the squad at his disposal.

Along with bringing back defenders Byron Webster and Nana, who were on loan at Sixfields last term, Johnson has brought in midfielders Paul Turnbull and Arron Davies, striker Jake Robinson and re-signed fans' favourite Adebayo Akinfenwa.

"My wife keeps saying don't get excited and I keep telling the chairman to stop getting excited, but looking at it I can only get excited because I enjoy working with good footballers," he said.

"You've got to have the mental capacity as well as the physical one, so we've got to get them into a machine over pre-season so it becomes a team that is really difficult to beat and will fight tooth and nail to make sure this club goes to the next level.

"I always say to the lads to take winning and losing out of the equation. All you've got to do is do your best... and if they're doing their best then I think we'll be good enough."

Turnbull and Davies joined from Stockport County and Peterborough United respectively last week, while Johnson is also running the rule over several trialists as he works to add to the squad.

He said: "We're very pleased with the quality that we have brought in, we're pleased that the puzzle has come together and the one thing we have got is some decent footballers.

"I'm very confident that their ball retention will be a lot better than ours was last year to go with the people that are back from last year.

"I think I've managed to bring in the types of players that I need to play my game which is now our game. You try and bring in those that you know, people that haven't let you down before. I'm pleased that we have managed to get in people I know all about. They're great characters in the dressing room and I know they are good footballers which is important.

"We can't take chances - we all want to be promoted pretty quickly."

The most urgent position that needs filling is that of goalkeeper after Chris Dunn finally completed his protracted move to Championship side Coventry City.

That has left Paul Walker as the only senior stopper at the club, with Johnson confirming he has taken a Bermudian international and a Cypriot Under-21 keeper on trial.

He has also not ruled out bringing back Steve Collis, who played during Dunn's injury-enforced absence at the end of last season, but added that he is looking elsewhere.

Johnson said: "There are a couple of goalkeepers out there that we can take on a year's loan, but I'd prefer to take someone that is ours.

"Steve Collis is always there and I like him, but he's 29 years old now and he needs to be certain of playing in the first team every week.

"I think he needs to go somewhere where he is earning a little bit for himself because he's only got a few years left, although goalkeepers go on a bit longer.

"I've given him the opportunity to look around but we'll see what happens."

Calm down dear - we're only in July

Murch proves a point after dash from Gateshead

ATHLETICS

RUGBY & Northampton AC could only manage a fourth place finish in the penultimate Midlands League Division One meeting of the season at Birchfield Harriers AC on Sunday.

With the field containing many national standard athletes, victories for R&N were scarce and only Kerry Murch in the javelin, with 36m 37cm, took an A-string victory on the day.

Kerry, along with brother Craig and Hannah Scales had competed at Gateshead in the English Schools' Championships the day before and had travelled straight to Birmingham's Alexandra Stadium to compete for the club.

On the women's side, Jo Pulsford ran extremely strongly to claim second place in the 3,000m in a new PB of 10m 08.8secs and Eleanor Ruddock also finished an excellent second place in the 100m A race.

In the B competitions, R&N had three second place finishes in Emma Cluely (400m hurdles), Rebecca Davies (triple jump) and Kathryn Reynolds, (javelin).

The team was completed with several younger athletes who competed extremely strongly and rose to the challenge of the senior competition with Genevieve Roberts looking particularly strong in the 1,500m.

The men's side of the team fared somewhat better with second place A-string finishes for Ross Allen in the 400m (49.6 secs), Chris Lamb in the 800m (1min 57.2secs), Craig Murch in the hammer with 50m 80cm and Glynn Hollingsworth in the javelin with 57m 67cm.

The strength in depth of the team was clear in the B-string competitions as the club posted numerous excellent performances to claim valuable points - particularly in the throws.

Kevin Murch produced his furthest throw for several seasons to claim victory in the javelin (53m 06 cm) as did Luke Hyland (hammer), Glynn Hollingsworth (discus) and shot putter John Moreland.

On the team front, Birchfield ran away with competition with 401 points. Rugby and Northampton scored 326 for fourth - well ahead of the final two teams, Bristol and Charnwood.

The final match takes place on Sunday, August 14, and the club will need to pull out all the stops if it is to avoid relegation to Division Two next year.

New diffuser rule could put the brakes on Vettel charge

BY MARC BAZELEY
marc.bazeley@hpnorthants.co.uk

CAN anyone catch defending world champion Sebastian Vettel? That is the question that the rest of Formula One is asking ahead of Sunday's British Grand Prix at Silverstone.

With the 2011 season approaching the midway point, the German has amassed a 77 point lead over his nearest challengers by winning all but two of the nine races so far.

Currently Britain's Jenson Button and Vettel's Red Bull Racing teammate Mark Webber, who won at Silverstone last year, are both trailing in his wake on 109 points.

Button and McLaren team-mate Lewis Hamilton are the only other two drivers to claim race victories this year as Vettel has swept aside all-comers.

However, recent changes to the technical regulations that come into effect this weekend may well throw a spanner into the works and temper – if not entirely halt – Red Bull's charge.

The controversy has surrounded the off-throttle blown diffusers at the rear of the cars, which create downforce by channelling exhaust gas over the rear diffuser even when drivers are off the throttle.

FIA technical delegate Charlie Whiting led the campaign against such devices and successfully argued that they infringe Article 3.15 of the F1 technical regulations.

That section states: "Any car system, device or procedure which uses, or is suspected of using, driver movement as a means of altering the aerodynamic characteristics of the car is prohibited."

Red Bull have utilised this most effectively on their RB7 car and recently their motorsport advisor Helmut Marko conceded the ban is expected to cost them half a second a lap.

RBR design guru Adrian Newey has also hit out at the decision this week, saying he is "baffled" by the ban being brought in halfway through the season.

He said: "We'll be quite heavily affected because our car was designed around the exhaust."

"So it might be that it's going to be more of a hit for us, but it's very difficult to forecast."

"It's also a difficult time of the year because this is when we are looking at next year's car as well."

"In a normal development cycle you split your resources at this time of year, but suddenly this year's resource has extra workload to cope with."

"Through the organisation there is extra load for something that was unexpected."

Williams, Virgin and HRT – the latter of whom have been vociferous in their opposition to it – are the only teams that were not using the technology before the ban came in, which means most are likely to be affected. Whatever the case, Vettel will be hoping to repeat his success on the circuit's old layout in 2009 as he looks to extend his advantage over the chasing pack.

Hamilton was the last British winner the year before, while Button has yet to finish on the podium in his home Grand Prix. His best finish is fourth in 2004 with Honda and last year.

Force India's Paul di Resta is racing

THE MAN TO BEAT: Sebastian Vettel

for the first time in F1 at Silverstone, which is just a stone's throw away from the team's headquarters.

This weekend will also see the F1 debut for the new £27million pit and paddock complex – the impressive Silverstone Wing.

It sees the start line moved from being between Woodcote and Copse corners to between Club and Abbey, leading into the Arena section which was introduced last year.
